THE TREND REPORT

CULTURAL CIRCLE

A 360-degree view of the artists, shows, books, and places on our radar this season. And there's even something for the kiddies.

FOR THE KIDS Looking for Miza (Scholastic), the true tale of a lost baby gorilla in the Congo—with a happy ending—was written by father-daughters team Craig, Isabella, and Juliana Hatkoff, as well as Dr. Paula Kahumbu. Phaidon, meanwhile, is reissuing the works of influential—and cult favorite—children's book author Tomi Ungerer, starting with his 1962 classic The Three Robbers (below).
