

NEW YORK POST

December 19, 2007

Polar prodigy

KNUT the polar bear, who turned 1 on Dec. 5, was celebrated Sunday at the American Museum of Natural History at the book party for "Knut: How One Little Polar Bear Captivated the World," by Juliana, Isabella and Craig Hatkoff — the daughters and husband of Tribeca Film Festival biggie Jane Rosenthal, who co-hosted the party with Kareena Gore

Patrick Dempsey takes his 1954 Jaguar XK 120M Roadster for a shopping spin along Santa Monica Boulevard in Beverly Hills.

Schiff. Knut and his brother were abandoned by their mother in the Berlin Zoo. The brother died of an infection, and then some animal-rights activists argued that Knut should be allowed to die, too. But the zoo bottle-fed him, as most of Germany and the world prayed. Among those who toasted the bear, and the book: supermodel Irina Pantaeva, Douglas Kennedy and Dana Hammond Stubgen.

Aspen appetite

UBER-chef Jean-Georges Vongerichten is looking to bring his four-star fare to the Colorado ski slopes. Sources tell The Post's Braden Keil the New York-based gastronomic guru is scouting locations in Aspen for an outpost that could open by next season. "Having a restaurant by Jean-Georges would be a culinary feather in our ski caps," said a local. Vongerichten's partner, Phil Suarez, downplays the possible Rocky Mountain move as "just talk at this point."

Splash News