

March 14, 2008

Children's Book Giveaways

I have two fantastic kids' books for you guys. If interested in either or both, just leave a comment or send an email (jessica dot mcfadden at g mail dot com) and I'll throw your name into the big yellow Bob the Builder hat.

Knut: How one little polar bear captivated the world by children's author Craig Hatkoff and his two daughters Juliana and Isabella, and Dr. Gerald R. Uhlich, CEO of Zoo Berlin

This is the tale of Knut, the first polar bear cub born at the Berlin Zoo in more than thirty years and the zookeeper, Thomas Dorflein, who nurtured him, slept with him and loved the little bear so that he would thrive. Born to a rescued circus bear, Knut depended on the parenting of the zoo, and his story won the hearts of millions. The hardcover keepsake book has beautiful photography of the fluffy white bear that children of all ages will adore. If you have a Hans de Beer "Little Polar Bear" lover in your house, this will be a winner. The non-fiction text is written at a third grade reading level.